Corn Spilled after Nine Train Cars Derailed near Belden

By: Elyk and edaC

On Saturday, February 4th, an eastbound train derailed near Belden. Out of the one hundred-fourteen cars on the train only nine derailed, so the situation could have been much worse than it was. There were no injuries, and the crew was hard at work on Sunday in an attempt to clear the track of corn and debris. None of the cars fully tipped over, rather, they folded together like an accordion. Andy Williams, the director of public affairs for Burlington Northern and Santa Fe railway is the source of all news and media updates for the cause of the train going off the tracks. Hopefully they can figure out the problem and fix it as soon as possible.
